History of Collecting
Classical Archaeology
History of Art and Architecture

Andrea M. Gáldy received her PhD in Art History and Archaeology from the University of Manchester with a thesis on the collections of antiquities of Cosimo I de' Medici, published in 2009.

She is a founding member of the international forum Collecting & Display (2004). A former fellow at Villa I Tatti (VIT05), she taught for international academic programmes in Florence and currently lectures for several German universities.

Her publications focus on the history of collecting, display, and on the impact of the academic engagement with collectibles on the cultural and artistic life during the early modern period.
